

Mindful Media Journal

Keep track of your media consumption to better understand your media consumption patterns and how they make you feel. Flag behaviors that left you feeling bad. Think about your goals and how awareness and adjustments can make big changes in how you feel.

| Date | Time | How Long? | What media? | What Were You Doing? | Who Were You With? | What Were You Feeling? | What Were You Thinking? |
|------|------|-----------|-------------|----------------------|--------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |
|      |      |           |             |                      |                    |                        |                         |